

At the Market in Yenangyaung

Market life

Fruit

Vegetables

Fish

That's where much of the fish comes from.

More fish and dried fish

Chicken,
please!

Cereals, beans, nuts etc.

Before the nuts are sold, they must be dried.

You can't get rich selling sprouts.

Beautiful flowers with an ugly background

Bananas!

MaE in her textile market

An indoor market is under construction.

A huge crane sets the girders ...

... while women carry the plaster.

It's a pity for the colourful outdoor market.

The shops in the colonial (or mock-colonial) houses may persist.

Transport 1

Transport 2

You couldn't win a race with it.

There is a sawmill next to the market.

What is left: plastic bags

No water
but rubbish

Exit from the market

The End
